EASTERN DATES TO AUGUST 2.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Miscellaneous News.

WASHINGTON, August 1.—At a Cabinet meeting to-day it was decided to tender to Charles Francis Adams the appointment of arbitrator on the part of the United States, to meet at Geneva with those of other nations, for the settlement of the Alabama claims under the treaty of Washington.

The President to-day appointed Alexander R. Brunot of Pittsburg, Indian Commissioner, and there is reason to believe he will settle the difference between Secretary Boutwell and Commissioner Pleasanton, which were fully discussed in the Cabinet to-day, by the appointment of J. W. Douglass, now 1st deputy Commissioner, to succeed Pleasanton.

The Royal mail steamer Delta, from Bermuda, arrived last evening bringing intelligence of a fire at Point Apetri Guadeloupe, on the 16th ult. Nearly the whole town was destroyed, and 30,000 persons left without shelter. The only buildings that escaped were the Church, Theatre and Tribunal buildings and the hospital. Many wharves were burned. Sugar ready for shipment was destroyed. The fire commenced in the middle of the town and the wind being very high, spread in all directions. The town was rebuilt entirely of wood after its destruction by the earthquake in 1843. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

WASHINGTON, August 1.—Judge Van Trump of the Ku Klux Sub-Committee authorizes the statement that the recently published reports of results of the Committee's investigations in South Carolina are untrue in many particulars, and facts in others are evidently colored for the purpose of producing a partisan impression. The testimony shows that there are but four counties—Laurens, Chester, York and Spartansburg—where the Ku Klux have committed many outrages. The testimony given by negroes was of the lowest kind and unworthy of belief. They were attracted by the fee—two dollars per diem—and in many cases were evidently drilled for the occasion.

French Affairs.

PARIS, August 1.—Jules Favre appeared to-day among the barristers at the Palace of Justice. He intends to resume active practice at the bar.

STRASBOURG, August 1.—In only a few places in Alsace and Lorraine have municipal elections been declared void in consequence of abstentions from voting.

The French party were successful at Metz and the Liberals and Moderates elected their tickets in other towns.

BELFORT, August 1.—The Berlin policy of abstention has defeated the elections in the upper Rhine and only a few candidates have been elected in the lower Rhine.

BRITISH PROVINCES.

Dispatch from Halifax.

HALIFAX, August 1.—Governor Robinson of Prince Edward Island has replied to the memorial of the opposition members who prayed for a special session to consider the Washington treaty. He says that a special session is unnecessary, and that the arrangements made between the Governments of Great Britain and United States to [illegible] the treaty go into operation at once is concurred in by his Government.

WYOMING TERRITORY.

Woman's Rights.

CHEYENNE, August 1.—The Supreme Court has decided that women have the right to sit as jurors under provisions of existing Territorial laws, Judge Fisher dissenting. The Chief Justice, Howe, rendered an opinion that under the Fourteenth Amendment women of the United States have the same right as men in respect to suffrage and office-holding.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 2.—Mrs. M. R. Maddocks and Mrs. A. J. Hill of Seattle passed west at Ogden to-day.

The Commune's Defense.

The General Council of the International Society of Workingmen has lately issued an address to the workingmen of Europe and America, in which the doings and aims of the Commune are discussed at great length. Jules Favre is painted in the blackest possible colors, and represented to be guilty of such sins that it was necessary to destroy Paris to escape the consequence of his crimes. Thiers is described as:

That monstrous gnome, who, for almost half a century, has charmed the French bourgeoise, because he is the most consummate intellectual expression of their own class corruption.

It declares that:

Before he became a statesman he had already proved his lying powers as an historian. The chronicle of his public life is the misfortunes of France. Banded, before 1830, with the Republicans, he slipped into office under Louis Phillippe by betraying his protector Laffitte, ingratiating himself with the king by exciting mob riots against the clergy, during which the church of St. Germain l'Auxerrois and the Archbishop's palace were plundered, and by acting the minister-spy upon, and the jail-accoucher of, the Duchess de Berri.

The Commune's true secret, says the address, was this:

It is essentially a working-class government, the produce of the struggle of the producing against the appropriating class—the political form at last discovered under which to work out the economical emancipation of labor. Except on this last condition, the communal constitution would have been an impossibility and a delusion. The political rule of the producer cannot co-exist with the perpetuation of his social slavery. The Commune was, therefore, to serve as a lever for uprooting the economical foundations upon which rests the existence of classes, and therefore of class rule. With labor emancipated every man becomes a workingman, and productive labor ceases to be a class attribute.

We don't profess to understand this, nor what follows:

The Commune, they exclaim, intends to abolish property, the basis of all civilization! Yes, gentlemen, the Commune intended to abolish that class property which makes the labor of the many the wealth of the few. It aimed at the appropriation of the expropriators. It wanted to make individual property a truth by transforming the means of production, land, and capital, now chiefly the means of enslaving and exploiting labor, into mere instruments of free and associated labor. But this is communism, "impossible" communism! Why, these members of the ruling classes who are intelligent enough to perceive the impossibility of continuing the present system, and they are many, have become the obtrusive and foul-mouthed apostles of co-operative production. If co-operative production is not to remain a sham and a snare, if it is to supersede the capitalist system, if united co-operative societies are to regulate national production upon a common plan—thus taking it under their own control, and putting an end to the constant anarchy and periodical convulsions which are the fatality of capitalist production—what else, gentlemen, would it be but communism, "possible" communism?

If this means anything it is that capital, that is to say property, is to be appropriated and divided among the workmen, and that individual rights of labor and accumulation are to be surrendered to co-operative associations—all accumulations to be divided equally. If it be possible to devise a worse form of tyranny than this we have not heard of it. The Commune, however, we are told, did not expect to perform miracles.

They have no ready-made utopias to introduce par decret du peuple. They know that in order to work out their own emancipation, and along with it that higher form to which present society is irresistibly tending by its own economical agencies, they will have to pass through long struggles, through a series of historic processes, transforming circumstances and men. They have no ideals to realize, but to set free the elements of the new society with which old collapsing bourgeois society itself is pregnant.

If society is tending to this higher form by irresistible economic agencies, wouldn't it be better to let these economic agencies work out the problem, instead of resorting to blood and fire as a means of economic renovation?

The Commune claims that the French peasant was and is with it, and that three months of free intercourse between Paris and the Provinces would have brought round a universal rising of the peasantry. It is not unlikely that agrarian demagogues, if they had their way, could have excited an agrarian insurrection against the property of the provinces as well as in the city. The address describes the second Empire as "the jubilee of cosmopolitan blackguardism," which is true enough. It defends the destruction of the Vendome Column as follows:

To broadly mark the new era of history it was conscious of initiating, under the eyes of the conquering Prussians on the one side, and of the Bonapartist army, led by Bonapartist Generals, on the other, the Commune pulled down that colossal symbol of martial glory, the Vendome column.

The address claims that Paris was a perfect Paradise during the reign of the Commune. Hear it:

Wonderful indeed was the change the Commune had wrought in Paris. No longer any trace of the meretricious Paris of the second empire. No longer was Paris the rendezvous of British landlords, Irish absentees, American ex-slaveholders and shoddy men, Russian ex serfowners, and Wallachian boyards. No more corpses at the Morgue, no nocturnal burglaries, scarcely any robberies; in fact, for the first time since the days of February, 1848, the streets of Paris were safe, and that without police of any kind. "We," said a member of the Commune, "hear no longer of assassination, theft, and personal assault; it seems, indeed, as if the police had dragged along with it to Versailles all its conservative friends." The cocottes had refound the scent of their protectors—the absconding men of family, religion, and above all, of property. In their stead the real women of Paris showed again at the surface—heroic, noble and devoted, like the men of antiquity. Working, thinking, fighting, bleeding Paris—almost forgetful, in its incubation of a new society, of the cannibals at its gates—radiant in the enthusiasm of its historic initiative.

Contrasted with this we have the Paris of Thiers, photographed in the following fashion:

The Paris of M. Thiers was not the real Paris of the "vile multitude," but a phantom Paris, the Paris of the francfileurs, the Paris of the boulevards, male and female—the rich, the capitalist, the gilded, the idle Paris, now thronging with its lackeys, its blacklegs, its literary boheme, and its cocottes at Versailles, St. Denis, Rueil and St. Germain; considering the civil war but an agreeable diversion, eyeing the battle going on through telescopes, counting the rounds of cannon, and swearing by their own honor and that of their prostitutes that the performance was far better got up than it used to be at the Porte St. Martin. The men who fell were really dead; the cries of the wounded were cries in good earnest; and, besides, the whole thing was so intensely historical.

Thiers' treatment of the insurgents is bitterly denounced, and it declares that:

The self-sacrificing heroism with which the population of Paris—men, women and children—fought for eight days after the entrance of the Versaillese, reflects as much the grandeur of their cause, as the infernal deeds of the soldiery reflect the innate spirit of that civilization of which they are the mercenary vindicators.

The burning of the public buildings of Paris is thus defended:

The workingmen's Paris, in the acts of its heroic self-holocaust, involved in its flames buildings and monuments. While tearing to pieces the living body of the proletariate, its rulers must no longer expect to return triumphantly into the intact architecture of their abodes. The government of Versailles cries "Incendiarism!" and whispers this cue to all its agents, down to the remotest hamlet, to hunt up its enemies everywhere as suspected of professional incendiarism. The bourgeoisie of the whole world, which looks complacently upon the wholesale massacre after the battle, is convulsed with horror at the desecration of brick and mortar! When governments give state licenses to their navies to "kill, burn, and destroy," is that a license for incendiarism? When the British troops wantonly set fire to the Capitol at Washington and to the summer palace of the Chinese Emperor, was that incendiarism? When the Prussians, not for military reasons, but out of the mere spite of revenge, burnt down, by the help of petroleum, towns like Chateau Dun and innumerable villages, was that incendiarism? When Thiers, during six weeks, bombarded Paris under pretext that he wanted to set fire to those houses only in which there were people, was that incendiarism? In war fire is an arm as legitimate as any.

In all these conflagrations it is alleged only one object was kept in view—not the gratification of a spirit of destructiveness, but the securing of the triumph in battle of those who raised them; so that if the firing of Moscow was glorious, the firing of the Tuileries could not be infamous.

If the acts of the Paris workingmen were vandalism, it was the vandalism of defence in despair, not the vandalism of triumph, like that which the Christian perpetuated upon the really priceless art treasures of heathen antiquity; and even that vandalism has been justified by the historian as an unavoidable and comparatively trifling concomitant to the Titanic struggle between a new society arising and an old one breaking down. It was still less the vandalism of Haussmann, razing historic Paris to make place for the Paris of the sightseer.

The execution of the Archbishop and the sixty-three hostages is laid at the door of the bourgoisie and Thiers. The Archbishop and others could, it is said, have been redeemed at any time for Blanqui, but Thiers would not consent. The Archbishop as a corpse was far more useful to him than alive and free. The Versaillists were slaughtering prisoners in cold blood. Was, it is asked, nothing to be done to tell them that such horrible work must cease?

The whole address is in the same inflated style of socialistic declamation. No doubt there is some truth at the bottom of this deep well of fanaticism, but it is a truth which needs no blood and no petroleum, and no overturning of the most sacred safeguards of life and property to work it out.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN STATES.

NEW YORK, July 2.—There were but few new developments yesterday in regard to the Westfield explosion and the excitement has greatly subsided. Grapplers and divers are yet engaged in searching the river for more bodies. None have been found besides those already reported. It is the opinion of men engaged in the work that all dead bodies except those washed away by the tides have been recovered.

WASHINGTON, August 2.—It is not improbable that the McGarrahan claim will be decided by Secretary Delano this summer and the entire case disposed of before the next meeting of Congress. The appeal of McGarrahan to have the record which he claims was mutilated restored is pending, and the New Idria Company has also put in its petition for patent to issue to it for the grant. The two cases are so intimately bound together that a decision for one strongly affects the other, and so both may be disposed of at the same time. What the decision will be there is not the slightest indication. If McGarrahan's present appeal should be decided against him it would virtually close up the whole case. If, on the other hand, he should gain restoration of the record, there would still be many questions to consider.

NEW YORK, August 2.—The Military Board is in session in this city, acting under orders from the Secretary of War and by authority of Congress, engaged in the work of preparing a new system of general regulations for the Army of the United States. It consists of Inspector-General R. B. Marcy, Col. Henry J. Hunt, of the 4th Artillery, Lt.-Col. Chas. R. Wood of the 5th Infantry, Maj. Richard J. Dodge of the 3d Infantry, Maj. A. J. Alexander of the 8th Cavalry.

There were six proposals for bonds to-day, amounting to $1,647,750, at from $1 12@1 12 90 100ths; awards will be at $1,000,000 from $1 12@1 12 90 100ths.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Revolutionary Conspiracy Discovered.

NEW YORK, July 2.—A London special says: Papers have been seized at Marseilles relating to the purpose of the insurrectionists to fire the docks, burn shipping and take the city during the confusion which it is supposed would be the consequence of the conflagration. Nancy and Bourges were to be fired and taken on the same plan.

PARIS, July 2.—The Court Martial adjourned to the 8th.

VERSAILLES, July 2.—Thiers yesterday threatened resignation in consequence of the defeat of the decentralization bill, but it is not thought it will be made a Cabinet question.

MEXICO.

NEW YORK, July 2.—A special from the city of Mexico says there are still doubts about the election of a permanent deputation. Congress wants a new election in various places where there were informalities.

A revolution now exists against the government of Tobasco. The cause is local and rather personal.

Rumors are current that Gen. Diaz refuses to give up to the federal Government the guns of Oaxaca captured in 1867. It is probable that Generals Roche and Alarra will go with the troops to enforce their delivery.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 2.—Sheriff White's friends are making a strong fight for his re-nomination in the Democratic Convention. At 9 P. M. the Convention, by a close vote, decided to close the doors against outsiders.

The schooner Ward J. Parks, from Peru, with 3,100 bags of sugar to Parrott & Co., came in to-day.

It is stated that the announcement that Henry Edgerton would canvass the State for the Republican ticket was unauthorized.

Sixteen more large cases of goods from Japan in aid of the German wounded and widows and orphans were received by the last steamer, and will be sent free of charge to Europe by the P. M. S. S. Co. and connections.

A company is forming here to open a coal mine near Olympia, recently taken up by Colonel C. W. Crocker of this city. A large offer has been made for the mine.

Colonel A. Dudley, late of Calaveras county, is announced to open the campaign for the Democratic ticket at Shasta on Saturday, August 5th. He will canvass the State.

The lottery ticket business is very quiet so far this month. There is something doing in the new Grass Valley lottery and the Calaveras and Stockton Fire Department lotteries, but the fever appears to be fizzing out.

James Gamble, General Superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Company, is recovering.

Judge Sawyer to-day sentenced Joseph King, a Hoodlum, to a year in the county jail for stabbing Bennett on the city front yesterday morning with a pocket knife.

M. M. Letterlich, an Australian, who has been humbugging attorneys and having persons arrested on false charges for several weeks past, was sent to the Insane Asylum to-day.

The United States gunboat Mohican arrived to-day from Mazatlan.

The Overland Monthly will come out next month as an illustrated magazine. The first illustration article will be on the old Mission, etc., of Southern California, and the second on the Mare Island Navy Yard.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 2.—The Democrats renominated Judge Stanley for County Court and nominated Judge Betts for Probate Judge. They are still in session. Nothing has yet transpired of the tax payers' nominations.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

VALLEJO, August 2.—Carlos Ferrea, brother of Nicola Ferrea, a large ranch owner, has been shot and reported dead. The difficulty was between him and Antone Manuel at a ranch three miles south of here. Antone Manuel delivered himself up claiming he did it in self-defense.

COLOMA, August 2.—A large Republican torch-light procession passed through the streets this evening. Sargent is now addressing a large crowd in the public hall, who show the utmost enthusiasm. The confidence of the Republicans of this vicinity in the success of the county and State tickets is unbounded.

STOCKTON, August 2.—At 11 o'clock this forenoon, Julia Lake, who was shot by Mrs. N. J. Saviers, on Monday night, died from the wounds received. An inquest is now going on. N. J. Saviers, who has been under arrest since the time of the shooting, was discharged to-day. Some one wishing to intimidate him, served a printed notice on him this afternoon, stating his presence was not desired in the city, and gave him eight hours to leave or suffer the penalty of a coat of tar and feathers. Mrs. Saviers is said to have left for parts unknown, by the evening train.

MARYSVILLE, August 2.—The Democrats of this city are holding the largest meeting of the season to-night. The crowd is very enthusiastic, and are being addressed by Gov. Haight, Joe Hamilton and J. D. Hambleton. There was a free train from Oroville, which brought down about five hundred people.

SACRAMENTO, August 2.—By the fire this morning, risks taken by the following Companies are involved: Pacific, $1,800; Fireman's Fund, $800; Home Mutual, $500; Etna, $300—on buildings and furniture.

The school fund, arising from the sale of school lands, amounts to $133,500; interest thereon, $39,072, is to be distributed this month; also interest on University fund, $57,500, arising from sale of lands donated to that institution, amounting to $2,032. This interest has accrued during the past six months.

There is a great gathering to-night to receive Senator Cole and Congressman Bingham.

For Congressmen at large, Illinois Republicans may choose between Richard J. Oglesby, Samuel W. Moulton, Shelby M. Cullom, Joseph Medill, John I. Rinaker, and about 225,000 others; and Illinois Democrats may choose between R. E. Goodell, Thomas J. Turner, "Tony" Knapp, Singleton, Burr, Snyder, Skinner, Hoyne, and about 175,000 others.

OREGON.

A terrific thunder storm occurred at the Dalles last Sunday evening.

From the Statesman: Messrs. Patterson & Thompson, real estate agents, yesterday sold an improved farm of 295 acres, situated southeast of Salem, for $5,000.

From the Statesman: A teamster just from Klamath, over the Pengra road, confirms the reports that it is in a wretched condition for travel. The grades are narrow, bridges unsafe, fords almost utterly impassable, and large rocks in the road.

A fire on the prairie in the neighborhood of the Dalles recently, spread over a large district of country and did some damage. Most of the farmers by hard work saved their crops. One German settler who lost his fences, got disgusted, sold out, and started for the old country.

Speaking of the allegations of the Bulletin relative to the course of the OREGONIAN on the riots at New York, the Statesman says: Now we particularly admire and commend the "independent" course of the OREGONIAN in relation to that very question, and we consider that no sensible or patriotic Catholic or Irishman can object to it, and if they do they have no qualification to be consistent Republicans. The OREGONIAN and the Statesman champion free speech, civil and religious liberty, and concede to others all they claim for themselves. What is there in this course to injure Republican principles?

THE TERRITORIES.

Chinese are receiving instructions in Sunday schools at Olympia.

Five hundred men are now employed in salmon fishing below Kalama.

Hotel room is wanted in Olympia. No town in the Territory is so poorly off.

The bark Rival, which reached Kalama on Sunday, brought railroad iron from San Francisco.

The surveyors of the N. P. Railroad, sent out to survey the Snoqualmie Pass, were camped last Thursday within a mile of the summit, and they expected to reach the latter point last Saturday.

A letter from Seattle states that some New Yorkers have recently been buying land in the vicinity of that town. We suppose, then, there is a relapse into the virulent stage of the terminal fever, thereabout.

THURSDAY MORNING, AUGUST 3, 1871.

Advance of the Cholera.

The telegraph informs us that great uneasiness is felt in Europe upon the spread of that dread monster cholera, which has been steadily enlarging its field for the past two months. It is a singular fact that periods immediately succeeding great wars are almost always accompanied by destructive epidemics and not unfrequently by great natural disturbances. About the close of our own war, we had not only a series of destructive earthquakes and tornadoes but a very general visitation of yellow fever, small pox and other epidemics. It is altogether probable, so far as natural disturbances are concerned, that the fact of their following wars is only a coincidence; but there is no impropriety in saying that epidemics are a natural sequence of great wars. A nation engaged in a war of great magnitude becomes socially disturbed; it lives faster, and its mode of thinking undergoes a radical change. The armies are fed upon different food from that which they are accustomed to as civilians, and this fact together with their wearing labor, the excitement of battle, and exposure in all kinds of weather, so wear upon them that they become obnoxious to the attacks of any and all epidemics. The abnormal condition resulting from a state of war is one which now possesses a portion of Germany and France. The adjoining nations have been close, anxious and excited watchers of events transpiring upon the bloody fields of France, because the result of the conflict between these two great Powers, Germany and France, was looked to, by them as a permanent peace to all Europe, or a disturbing, unsettled state of affairs liable to break out in any direction and at any time, and, of course, shared more or less in the change of thinking and mode of living.

One of the strangest features of cholera in its connection with the enervating results of a great war, is, that it never makes its appearance upon the field at once; but let a nation become ready to receive cholera, and the epidemic, coming from the marshes and slime of the Ganges, moves upon the doomed region where its work of destruction is more marked than in other nations to which it spreads. The epidemic is approaching by slow stages and along its accustomed routes towards Germany and France. It ships itself on vessels, allies itself with caravans and with the swiftness or slowness of those with whom it travels pushes toward the field to which it is bound. At the present moment it has crossed the intervening country from the Ganges to the Black Sea, has traveled along the Volga and has reached St. Petersburg; while another [illegible] has crossed the Med[illegible] and landed in Italy and [illegible]. That it will visit the United States we have little doubt, as the telegraph informs us that there have been some cases recently at Hull, which is on the route of emigrants from North Germany to America. But we have no apprehensions that its destructiveness will be felt as forcibly as in Europe, for our people have recovered from the excitement attendant upon the rebellion and resumed the regular order of things.

The Tammany Thieves.

More damaging proofs than ever of the astounding robberies perpetrated by the head organization of the Democratic party, known as the Tammany ring, are furnished by the New York Times of the 23d July. That paper has obtained a copy of the secret account of the Tammany officials with J. H. Ingersoll, one of the tools and agents of the gang. From these accounts it appears that during the years 1869 and 1870 the prodigious sum of [illegible],640 33 was paid to various parties ostensibly for furniture and repairs for the Court House,—the checks all being endorsed by the said Ingersoll, who was the agent through whom the bulk of the money got back to the thieving officials. Such wholesale stealing was never known before in any country. The Times reminds its readers that it is only quoting county accounts in this exposure; the city accounts reveal frauds of still greater magnitude! It is now apparent why no official exhibit of the financial affairs of New York has been made during the last three years. The exposures made by the Times are greatly alarming to the thieves. Mayor Hall and others who are branded as thieves before the whole country do not deny the charges against them; but, as a recent telegraphic dispatch advises us, they put in a plea that some Republicans were connected with this wholesale swindling, hoping thus to clear themselves! The Times promises to go on with its work and furnish still more exposures. It is a great and wealthy newspaper, worth more than a million of dollars, and it challenges the gang whom it brands as thieves to meet it in a court of law, where it will prove to any jury the truth of all it has asserted. They do not accept the challenge. Is not the inference plain enough? This is the gang that will be in power at Washington if the Democratic party triumphs in the coming Presidential election!

The Challenge Declined.

To the Tammany gang, which has been for years engaged in the perpetration of prodigious thefts in New York City, the Tribune thus addresses itself:

> The charges presented by the Times are true or false. If true, the thieves who thus prostitute great public trust, should be prosecuted so vigorously, and promptly that within a twelvemonth either Sing Sing should hold them or this continent should not. If false, the journal that so grossly libels the chief officers of its city, should be taught that slander so monstrous is a luxury too costly to be indulged in more than once in its lifetime.
>
> Messrs. Hall and Connolly! The Times seems to recognize this situation and accept it. It says it calls you thieves, because it can prove you so, in the investigation, in a court of law, to which it invites you. You cannot afford to ignore that invitation.
>
> Let us have the truth placed beyond dispute. The managers of the Times are known and responsible. If they have grossly defamed the Mayor and Controller, they should be proceeded against criminally, and brought to trial forthwith. We await the action of Messrs. Hall and Connolly with earnest solicitude.

Yet will it be believed that after all this the ring declines an investigation and submits to the stigma which the Times fixes upon its members! Are these developments an argument for entrusting the national interests to the Democratic party?

It is the same story whenever the Democratic party is in power. Since that party came into power in California four years ago it has created one hundred and two new offices, the salaries of which amount to $199,700 per annum. The expenses of the Legislature at the last session reached the great sum of $213,630, or nearly double what a session cost when the Republicans were in the ascendant. Facts like these are telling in the canvass with great effect.

An interesting array of educational statistics for the United States has been compiled by the Commissioner of Education and recently published. Information from each State is collected, and many useful and practical observations are given in connection with it. Statistics of colleges and collegiate institutions show that of these there are 337 in the United States. In this enumeration medical and theological institutions are not included. Very full statistics are presented of the common schools of the country, but there is no recapitulation so as to show the whole at a glance. But the record of education is probably not equalled by that of any other country, with the possible exception of Germany.

Dr. Tunnicliffe, a resident of Jackson, Michigan, now in this city, gave us some information yesterday relative to the Holly Water Works, now in operation at Jackson. He says the works are all that could be desired; that they furnish water in abundance and at cheap rates; that for protection against fire they are perfect; that little or no expense is incurred for repairs; that the flow of water is steady; that the citizens of Jackson are in all respects perfectly satisfied with the operation of the works, and having tried them, would not think of adopting any other method of water supply. He is convinced that the system will be generally adopted in all parts of the country, and that it will gradually supersede all others.

Not long ago all the Democratic papers were publishing a "speech" alleged to have been delivered at New Orleans by General Sherman, and on the strength of it were claiming him as a "Democrat." Some of them went so far as to declare that they would accept him as their candidate for President. General Sherman soon denied that he uttered the sentiments attributed to him, but the papers which had misrepresented him never made the correction. It is now stated by Eastern papers that he has emphatically expressed his opinion that General Grant should and will be renominated, and that he ought to be re-elected. In this General Sherman only gives utterance to the deliberately formed judgment of the people.

It is understood that the "new departure" platform of the Pennsylvania Democracy was prepared by a leading Republican of the State, who wants that party to elect its ticket by way of "rebuking the Administration" for some slight put upon the platform-maker aforesaid.

The Herald has been forced to declare that it spoke without authority when it stated that Senator Kelly had "departed," altogether, the Herald acts as if it were quite sorry that it "departed" itself.

REMARKABLE CURE OF MRS. HOOVER.

TUALATIN PLAINS, WASHINGTON CO., OREGON, July 22, 1871.

DR. A. M. LORYEA—I have been troubled with Rheumatism for the past twelve years; my joints, especially those of my feet and hands, were badly swollen, so that I could with difficulty go around. My shoulder pained me a great deal and a LARGE BONY SWELLING grew out, so that I could not raise my hand to my head.

Since last spring I have been taking your "Oak Weed Remedy," and find myself much improved. The swelling and pain has left my joints and shoulder and THE BONY GROWTH HAS ENTIRELY DISAPPEARED and I use my limbs and am far better than I have been for years.

THE ATMOSPHERIC GAS LIGHT.—We are assur[illegible] that thus far the atmospheric gas light machin[illegible] put into the American Exchange by Mr. Whit[illegible] side, works most satisfactorily. The light [illegible] quite equal to the best coal gas, and is vast[illegible] cheaper. THURSDAY MORNING, AUGUST 3, 1871.

Advance of the Cholera.

The telegraph informs us that great uneasiness is felt in Europe upon the spread of that dread monster cholera, which has been steadily enlarging its field for the past two months. It is a singular fact that periods immediately succeeding great wars are almost always accompanied by destructive epidemics and not unfrequently by great natural disturbances. About the close of our own war, we had not only a series of destructive earthquakes and tornadoes but a very general visitation of yellow fever, small pox, and other epidemics. It is altogether probable, so far as natural disturbances are concerned, that the fact of their following wars is only a coincidence; but there is no impropriety in saying that epidemics are a natural sequence of great wars. A nation engaged in a war of great magnitude becomes socially disturbed; it lives faster, and its mode of thinking undergoes a radical change. The armies are fed upon different food from that which they are accustomed to as civilians, and this fact together with their wearing labor, the excitement of battle, and exposure in all kinds of weather, so wear upon them that they become obnoxious to the attacks of any and all epidemics. The abnormal condition resulting from a state of war is one which now possesses a portion of Germany and France. The adjoining nations have been close, anxious and excited watchers of events transpiring upon the bloody fields of France, because the result of the conflict between these two great Powers, Germany and France, was looked to by them as a permanent peace to all Europe, or a disturbing, unsettled state of affairs liable to break out in any direction and at any time, and, of course, shared more or less in the change of thinking and mode of living.

One of the strangest features of cholera in its connection with the enervating results of a great war, is, that it never makes its appearance upon the field at once; but let a nation become ready to receive cholera, and the epidemic coming from the marshes and slime of the Ganges, moves upon the doomed region where its work of destruction is more marked than in other nations to which it spreads. The epidemic is approaching by slow stages and along its accustomed routes towards Germany and France. It ships itself on vessels, allies itself with caravans and with the swiftness or slowness of those with whom it travels pushes toward the field to which it is bound. At the present moment, it has crossed the intervening country from the Ganges to the Black Sea, has traveled along the Volga and has reached St. Petersburg; while another column has crossed the Mediterranean and landed in Italy and Southern France. That it will visit the United States we have little doubt; as the telegraph informs us that there have been some cases recently at Hull, which is on the route of emigrants from North Germany to America. But we have no apprehensions that its destructiveness will be felt as forcibly as in Europe, for our people have recovered from the excitement attendant upon the rebellion and resumed the regular order of things.

The Tammany Thieves.

More damaging proofs than ever of the astounding robberies perpetrated by the head organization of the Democratic party, known as the Tammany ring, are furnished by the New York Times of the 22d July. That paper has obtained a copy of the secret account of the Tammany officials with J. H. Ingersoll, one of the tools and agents of the gang. From these accounts it appears that during the years 1869 and 1870 the prodigious sum of [illegible] 33 was paid to various parties ostensibly for furniture and repairs for the Court House,—the checks all being endorsed by the said Ingersoll, who was the agent through whom the bulk of the money got back to the thieving officials. Such wholesale stealing was never known before in any country. The Times reminds its readers that it is only quoting county accounts in this exposure; the city accounts reveal frauds of still greater magnitude! It is now apparent why no official exhibit of the financial affairs of New York has been made during the last three years. The exposures made by the Times are greatly alarming to the thieves. Mayor Hall and others who are branded as thieves before the whole country do not deny the charges against them; but, as a recent telegraphic dispatch advises us, they put in a plea that some Republicans were connected with this wholesale swindling, hoping thus to clear themselves! The Times promises to go on with its work and furnish still more exposures. It is a great and wealthy newspaper, worth more than a million of dollars, and it challenges the gang whom it brands as thieves to meet it in a court of law, where it will prove to any jury the truth of all it has asserted. They do not accept the challenge. Is not the inference plain enough? This is the gang that will be in power at Washington if the Democratic party triumphs in the coming Presidential election!

The Challenge Declined.

To the Tammany gang, which has been for years engaged in the perpetration of prodigious thefts in New York City, the Tribune thus addresses itself:

> The charges presented by the Times are true or false. If true, the thieves who thus prostitute great public trust should be prosecuted so vigorously and promptly that within a twelvemonth either Sing Sing should hold them or this continent should not. If false, the journal that so grossly libels the chief officers of its city, should be taught that slander so monstrous is a luxury too costly to be indulged in more than once in its lifetime.
>
> Messrs. Hall and Connolly! The Times seems to recognize this situation and accept it. It says it calls you thieves, because it can prove you so, in the investigation, in a court of law, to which it invites you. You cannot afford to ignore that invitation.
>
> Let us have the truth placed beyond dispute. The managers of the Times are known and responsible. If they have grossly defamed the Mayor and Controller, they should be proceeded against criminally, and brought to trial forthwith. We await the action of Messrs. Hall and Connolly with earnest solicitude.

Yet will it be believed that after all this the ring declines an investigation and submits to the stigma which the Times fixes upon its members! Are these developments an argument for entrusting the national interests to the Democratic party?

It is the same story whenever the Democratic party is in power. Since that party came into power in California four years ago it has created one hundred and two new offices, the salaries of which amount to $109,700 per annum. The expenses of the Legislature at the last session reached the great sum of $213,636, or nearly double what a session cost when the Republicans were in the ascendant. Facts like these are telling in the canvass with great effect.

An interesting array of educational statistics for the United States has been compiled by the Commissioner of Education and recently published. Information from each State is collected, and many useful and practical observations are given in connection with it. Statistics of colleges and collegiate institutions show that of these there are 337 in the United States. In this enumeration medical and theological institutions are not included. Very full statistics are presented of the common schools of the country, but there is no recapitulation so as to show the whole at a glance. But the record of education is probably not equalled by that of any other country, with the possible exception of Germany.

Dr. Tunnicliffe, a resident of Jackson, Michigan, now in this city, gave us some information yesterday relative to the Holly Water Works, now in operation at Jackson. He says the works are all that could be desired; that they furnish water in abundance and at cheap rates; that for protection against fire they are perfect; that little or no expense is incurred for repairs; that the flow of water is steady; that the citizens of Jackson are in all respects perfectly satisfied with the operation of the works, and having tried them, would not think of adopting any other method of water supply. He is convinced that the system will be generally adopted in all parts of the country, and that it will gradually supersede all others.

Not long ago all the Democratic papers were publishing a "speech" alleged to have been delivered at New Orleans by General Sherman, and on the strength of it were claiming him as a "Democrat." Some of them went so far as to declare that they would accept him as their candidate for President. General Sherman soon denied that he uttered the sentiments attributed to him, but the papers which had misrepresented him never made the correction. It is now stated by Eastern papers that he has emphatically expressed his opinion that General Grant should and will be renominated, and that he ought to be re-elected. In this General Sherman only gives utterance to the deliberately formed judgment of the people.

It is understood that the "new departure" platform of the Pennsylvania Democracy was prepared by a leading Republican of the State, who wants that party to elect its ticket by way of "rebuking the Administration" for some slight put upon the platform-maker aforesaid.

The Herald has been forced to declare that it spoke without authority when it stated that Senator Kelly had "departed." Altogether, the Herald acts as if it were quite sorry that it "departed" itself.

REMARKABLE CURE OF MRS. HOOVER.

TUALATIN PLAINS, WASHINGTON CO., OREGON, July 22, 1871.

DR. A. M. LORYEA—I have been troubled with Rheumatism for the past twelve years; my joints especially those of my feet and hands, were badly swollen, so that I could with difficulty go around. My shoulder pained me a great deal and a LARGE BONY SWELLING grew out, so that I could not raise my hand to my head.

Since last spring I have been taking your "Unk Weed Remedy," and find myself much improved. The swelling and pain has left my joints and shoulder and THE BONY GROWTH HAS ENTIRELY DISAPPEARED and I use my limbs and am far better than I have been for years.

M. HOOVER.

WOMAN'S TRUE FRIEND!

MYERS' PATENT COMBINED

FLUTING AND SMOOTHING FLAT-IRON

Patented March, 1871.

THE MOST USEFUL INVENTION OF THE AGE!

THE ONLY PATENT FLUTING AND SMOOTHing Iron ever offered to the public, and pronounced by the Press perfection itself.

Adopted by all Housekeepers, on its own merits, as the Cheapest and most Perfect household article yet devised.

Advantages over all others—CHEAPNESS! SIMPLICITY! DURABILITY! Requires no labor to adjust it for Fluting or Ruffling, as is the case with expensive crank machines: the Iron is heated in the ordinary manner as for plain smoothing. When desiring to FLUTE or RUFFLE, draw back the Latch and it is ready for its work; this simple movement is all that is required. Its entire simplicity is one of its many merits.

It will not injure the finest fabric. It will not rust or destroy your clothes. It is a great saver of Time and Money. It is the only Iron with a "Rolling Mode." Its Fluting surfaces are of Polished Brass. No home can afford to be without one.

MYERS' COMBINED FLUTING AND SMOOTHING FLAT-IRONS have earned for themselves a popularity which has never been attained by any Fluting Machine. People go into ecstacies over the results accomplished by our Irons, and the longer they are used the more highly do they value them, and no wonder, when we consider that our Combined Fluting and Smoothing Flat-Irons, which are no trouble [illegible] to use, and [illegible]

Science Advances.

As soon as an article purporting to be of utility has been tested, and its merits endorsed by public opinion unprincipled parties endeavor to replenish their depleted purses by counterfeiting, and substituting a spurious for the genuine article. Some time since, mercury, in the disguise of pills, powders, etc., was given for all diseases of the stomach and liver, while quinine was freely administered for the chills. At length Hostetter's Stomach Bitters made its advent, and an entire new system of healing was inaugurated. The beneficial effects of this valuable preparation were at once acknowledged, and mineral poisons suffered to sink into that obscurity to which an enlightened age has consigned them. There have been many spurious bitters palmed upon the community, which, after trial, have been found perfectly worthless, while Hostetter's has proved a blessing to thousands, who owe to it their restoration to health.

For many years we have watched the steady progress of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in public estimation, and its beneficent effects as a cure for all complaints arising from the stomach of a morbid nature, and we are free to say that it can be relied upon as a certain relief and remedy. Its proprietors have made the above preparation, after years of careful study and sifting, and are now reaping the reward claimed by this valuable specific, and which they so richly merit. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it, therefore demands the attention of the afflicted.

MILLS SEMINARY.

REV. C. T. MILLS AND WIFE, FOR the past six years Principals of the Young Ladies' Seminary at Benicia, are happy to announce to their patrons and friends, that the next term of their well known Institution, will open

Wednesday, August 2, 1871,

In their New, Commodious and Beautiful Building, just completed at SEMINARY PARK, BROOKLYN.

As most of the able and experienced corps of Teachers, with valuable accessions, as well as the classes, the pupils now pursuing their studies remove with them, the school remains essentially unchanged with greatly increased facilities for physical comfort and intellectual culture without additional expense. Mr. and Mrs. Mills believe they can accomplish much more for their pupils in the future than they have been able to do in the past, and that this Institution offers unrivaled advantages for a thorough and finished education.

THE ATMOSPHERIC GAS LIGHT.—We are assured that thus far the atmospheric gas light machine, put into the American Exchange by Mr. Whiteside, works most satisfactorily. The light is quite equal to the best coal gas, and is vastly cheaper. We have seen a letter written from San Francisco, which makes mention of a large number of houses that are now lighted by these machines, among them the large printing establishment of Valentine & Frisbee, Bancroft & Co.'s book house, etc. The company having the patent right are unable to manufacture the machines fast enough to supply orders. The light has been introduced into Stockton, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and other cities, being everywhere well liked. At Los Angeles, one of the machines was put up and it so pleased everybody that the Gas Co., as a matter of prudent foresight, reduced their rates twenty-five per cent. within the week, and an offer of $10,000 was made by a party (probably in the interest of the Gas Co.) for the right for Los Angeles county alone. The offer was declined. It would seem that a revolution in the cost of lighting buildings, at least, is about to be effected by these machines! Such a consummation is to be devoutly wished for.

PASSENGERS FOR OREGON.—The steamship John L. Stephens sailed yesterday forenoon from San Francisco for this port. The following is her list of passengers: J T Halstin, Bishop Janes and daughter, E M Musser and wife, Dr Thomas, Dr Harris, A [illegible]ton and mother, Rev A Myers, Rev M [illegible], Rev G H Atterbach, Rev M Ramsey, H [illegible] Comstock, Miss Harris, A S Knox, J W Hodson, [illegible] E Cook, Mrs Parrin, Mrs Geo Thatcher, Miss [illegible] Morton, J C Davis and wife, E P Armes and wife, Miss Strauss, G Munsey, Jos Lovett and wife, J E Hawks and family, Mrs Capt G N [illegible] and wife, [illegible] Fisher, Mrs Bassett and three children, A Martin and wife, Mrs Coburn, Mrs H Eizner, Mrs J R Morels, Mrs Prior, Mrs M A Newton and child, Miss J Bale, F W James, J B Floror and wife, J M Floror and wife, Mrs Jaines and two children, N Heath, C L Shepard, C N Chapman, A M Adams, R K Swain and family, M J Lyons and daughter, P Paffer, A Selden, J Stormant and family, Mrs J E Parker and three children, J J La Fontaine and family, J Verdin, S Tyler, S C Vining, G W Vining, C Thompson, S Rosenblatt, J H Goldsmith, J W Geary, D S Roland and family, H N Kreiss and family, A L Houck, S Houck, P D Palmer, B F Ragan, C F Hoag, W E Horton, W A Harrington, P McKenna, H Hammer and family, L Irving, F R Girard.

PASSENGERS FOR CALIFORNIA.—The N. P. T. Co.'s steamship Oriflamme sailed for San Francisco at 7 o'clock last evening. The following is a list of her passengers: Hon Horace Maynard and wife, Wm B Rice, W J McConnell, Rev H Taylor, Fritz Carroll, T Rodgers, Miss Vara Comstock, Mrs Chas Holman, L H Lawrence, Mrs De Bell, Mrs J S Motley, C A Dolph, Marshal Bliss, S L Frost, M J Daly, G Kosters, T Ditzenhoffer, L Barman, A Corrier, L Comstock, W P [illegible], J B Hinkle, R C Aimes, Louis Wilde and wife, Mrs H F Kinkead, F A Hoffman, J G Sutherland, R May, M L H Lawrence and wife, Mrs Dr E Bolton, Mrs Gen B S Alexander, F R C Hardenbergh and wife, M S Burrell, Mrs S E May and two children, Frank May, C S Sanford, J B DeJonier, D J Stormes, Jas Cameron, [illegible] Goodwyn, G C Griffin, W F & Co's messenger, and 25 in the steerage.

AN INCIDENT OF THE MOONLIGHT EXCURSION.—The moonlight idea of the excursion of Tuesday evening failed to connect. The moon was in a [illegible] or had an attack of "indisposition," and refused to come out. The excursionists couldn't [illegible] falls by moonlight," try, however hard [illegible] One enthusiastic viewer of nature's [illegible] and beautiful displays, had taken along an [illegible] to assist his natural vision; but as he [illegible] hear the roar of the falls when he [illegible] to his optics, he concluded that [illegible] a glass, darkly," was not a [illegible] to afford ecstatic delight, [illegible] contributed [illegible] he went [illegible] the Kalama church fund when [illegible] around at the Court-house.

[illegible] THE WALLAMET.—The steamer [illegible] was some time ago put in the dry [illegible] Oregon City, to be fitted up for the use of [illegible] intendent of River and [illegible] in Oregon, is now ready to [illegible] dredging [illegible] The work of [illegible] will be commenced as soon as [illegible] be had. It is now being constructed [illegible] Iron Works, to be done in a few [illegible] probable the work of improvement [illegible] enced in about a week.

[illegible] GETS HIS DUES.—At last, if we [illegible] reports, "them Oro Fino fellows" are [illegible] the better of the Herald. In short, [illegible] that a "departure" is to be effected [illegible] lishment, which will bring the paper [illegible] edged "Oro Fino" organ. The Herald [illegible] told us that "them fellows" are very [illegible] and wicked; hence, probably they [illegible] the Herald and its sins without much [illegible] tion therefrom.

[illegible] CUSTOM-HOUSE.—General Holman, [illegible] ing Architect of Public Buildings, [illegible] came up from Astoria on Tuesday. He [illegible] us that the appropriation for the Custom-house at that place has been expended and all work is stopped. The walls are entirely finished, but the appropriation was insufficient for the construction of the roof. The building will therefore have to stand, in a somewhat exposed condition, until [illegible] appropriation can be obtained.

A BUOY AND A SNAG AT SEA.—On Sunday last the schooner Mila Bond passed a buoy afloat at sea about two miles off Tillamook Head. It was a Government buoy, painted red and black. [illegible] the same spot the schooner barely escaped [illegible] into a tree fully one hundred and fifty feet long, with immense roots and branches. [illegible] Corno says this tree would tear the bow [illegible] happening to strike it while under [illegible] way.

SAMPLE SALMON FOR THE STATES.—Several gentlemen who have been here looking about the country from the east, previous to [illegible] yesterday, on the steamer for home, purchased a half-barrel of salmon of Leveridge, Wadhams & Co., to take home as samples. They want to [illegible] whether the fish will taste as good on the "other side" as on this. We reckon they will find them all correct in any longitude.

EAST SIDE THOROUGHFARE.—We learn that there is only one hundred feet of roadway to cut [illegible] to connect the eastern end of Holladay avenue with the Sandy road. This will be done in about ten days, and thereafter a considerable proportion of the travel from the Sandy country will enter the city via the avenue and the railroad ferry.

FROM OREGON CITY.—The warehouse of the P. T. Co. at Oregon City is filled with merchandise and the products of the valley, awaiting shipment each way.

The new Alert, now being finished by the Co., below the falls, will be ready to run about the last of the month. She will be a clipper and no mistake.

FAMILIES.—The incoming passenger lists of late contain a very considerable proportion of men with families—a very desirable feature in passenger lists, for the reason that men coming with families come to stay. The John L. Stephens has no less than eighteen names of persons accompanied by wives or families.

PERSONAL.

Rev. A. Myers, who went east a month or so ago, to purchase machinery for a machine manufactory at Salem, is a passenger by the John L. Stephens.

Hon. H. Maynard and wife, after a visit of over a month in Oregon and Puget Sound, took their departure last evening, by the steamer Oriflamme, for their home in Tennessee.

Carl Bosco, magician and artist, is at present at Astoria, taking views for Buchtel's gallery. On Friday and Saturday evenings he is to give the citizens of Astoria a couple of his exhibitions in necromancy.

The family of Mr. S. E. May, late Secretary of State, left by the steamer yesterday, for San Francisco, and thence for Salt Lake City, where they are to reside hereafter. Mr. May has gone into business there.

Bishop Janes of the M. E. Church, is a passenger by the John L. Stephens now out for this port from San Francisco. He is coming to preside over the Oregon Conference which will commence its session at this city on Wednesday the 9th inst.

Northrup & Drew allowed on South 3d street contract, $256 29, and the bill referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property; $65 of this bill withheld for examination into an alleged error in estimates of filling. The bill of several persons for fees in a suit, was referred to the Committee of Ways and Means. Bill of City Surveyor and assistants for services in July, $361 50; allowed. Bill of J. H. Lappeus for board of city prisoners, was passed over without action, there being no appropriation for that purpose.

An ordinance making an appropriation out of the general fund to supply deficiencies—read 3 times and passed.

An ordinance to provide for the time and manner of improving Taylor street from Seventh to Tenth—read 3 times and passed.

An ordinance to provide for the time and manner of improving South Front street from Sherman to Sheridan—read 3 times and passed.

An ordinance to provide for the construction of a sewer on Lincoln street—read 3 times and passed.

RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions were offered and adopted:

From the Committee of Ways and Means—Directing the Auditor to draw warrants at stated times in favor of persons on the Pay Roll.

From Committee on Streets and Public Property—the Auditor to issue warrants for the collection of delinquent assessments on Alder street.

From same Committee, reciting that, whereas the Oregon Central Railroad Co. has submitted a proposition to bear the expense of the proposed change of grade of Fourth street, in case such change be ordered by the Council, and instructing the Auditor to give notice of the proposed change of grades on Fourth street, to publish with such notice the substance of the proposition of the Oregon Central Railroad Co., and to withdraw from publication the former notice.

From Mr. Hallock—Directing the City Surveyor to make a map of property in the city for assessment purposes.

The Council adjourned.

AWAY FROM HOME.—In consequence of the late flood in the Council Chamber, the Councilmen met and transacted business last evening in an upper room temporarily arranged for that purpose.

FROM TILLAMOOK.—The schooner Mila Bond, Corno, Master, arrived yesterday morning from Tillamook Bay. The vessel will remain here a few days to receive a fresh coat of paint.

EIGHTH STREET.—That part of Eighth street between B and Stark will probably be opened to the public by Friday. Only thirty lineal feet of excavation remains to be done.

POLICE BUSINESS FOR JULY.—During the month of July, the police of this city made two hundred and thirty-four arrests.

A large volume would not contain the mass of testimony which has accumulated in favor of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY as a safe, efficient and reliable remedy in curing coughs, colds and pulmonary disease. Many of the cures are truly wonderful.

Science Advances.

As soon as an article purporting to be of utility has been tested, and its merits endorsed by public opinion unprincipled parties endeavor to replenish their depleted purses by counterfeiting, and substituting a spurious for the genuine article. Some time since, mercury, in the disguise of pills, powders, etc., was given for all diseases of the stomach and liver, while quinine was freely administered for the chills. At length Hostetter's Stomach Bitters made its advent, and an entire new system of healing was inaugurated. The beneficial effects of this valuable preparation were at once acknowledged, and mineral poisons suffered to sink into that obscurity to which an enlightened age has consigned them. There have been many spurious bitters palmed upon the community, which, after trial, have been found perfectly worthless, while Hostetter's has proved a blessing to thousands, who owe to it their restoration to health.

For many years we have watched the steady progress of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in public estimation, and its beneficent effects as a cure for all complaints arising from the stomach of a morbid nature, and we are free to say that it can be relied upon as a certain relief and remedy. Its proprietors have made the above preparation, after years of careful study and sifting, and are now reaping the reward claimed by this valuable specific, and which they so richly merit. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it, therefore demands the attention of the afflicted.

Tad Lincoln.

[From the New York Tribune.]

Most of those who read the dispatch announcing the death of Thomas Todd Lincoln will never think of the well-grown young gentleman who died on Saturday at Chicago. The name of "Tad"—a pet name given by himself with his first stammering utterances and adopted by his fond parents and the world—recalls the trickey little sprite who gave to that sad and solemn White House of the great war the only comic relief it knew. The years that have followed, spent in study and travel, produced an utterly different person. The Tad Lincoln of our history ceased to exist long ago. The modest and cordial young fellow who passed through New York a few weeks ago with his mother will never be known outside the circle of his mourning friends. But "Little Tad" will be remembered as long as any live who bore a personal share in the great movements whose center for four years was at Washington.

He was so full of life and vigor—so bubbling over with health and high spirits, that he kept the house alive with his pranks and his fantastic enterprises. He was always a "chartered libertine," and after the death of his brother Willie, a prematurely serious and studious child, and the departure of Robert for College, he installed himself as the absolute tyrant of the Executive Mansion. He was idolized by both his father and mother, petted and indulged by his teachers, and fawned upon and caressed by the noisome horde of office-seekers which infested the ante-rooms of the White House. He had a very bad opinion of books and no opinion of discipline, and thought very little of any tutor who would not assist him in yoking his kids to a chair or in driving his dogs tandem over the South Lawn. He was as shrewd as he was lawless, and always knew whether he could make a tutor serviceable or not. If he found one with obstinate ideas of the superiority of grammar to kite-flying as an intellectual employment, he soon found means of getting rid of him.

He had so much to do that he felt he could not waste time in learning to spell. Early in the morning you could hear his shrill pipe resounding through the dreary corridors of the Executive residence. The day passed in a rapid succession of plots and commotions, and when the President laid down his weary pen toward midnight, he generally found his infant goblin asleep under his table, or roasting his curly head by the open fire-place; and the tall chief would pick up the child and trudge off to bed with the drowsy little burden on his shoulder, stooping under the doors and dodging the chandeliers. The President took infinite comfort in the child's rude health, fresh fun, and uncontrollable boisterousness. He was pleased to see him growing up in ignorance of books, but with singularly accurate ideas of practical matters. He was a fearless rider, while yet so small that his legs stuck out horizontally from the saddle. He had that power of taming and attaching animals to himself, which seems the especial gift of kindly and unlettered natures. "Let him run," the easy going President would say; "he has time enough left to learn his letters and get poky. Bob was just such a little rascal, and now he is a very decent boy."

It was evident that with all his insubordinations and reckless mischief the spoiled child was at heart of a truthful and generous nature. He treated flatterers and office-seekers with a curious coolness and contempt, but he often espoused the cause of some poor widow or tattered soldier, whom he found waiting in the ante-rooms, and it was most amusing to see the hearty little fellow dragging his shabby proteges into the Executive presence, ordering the others out of the way, and demanding immediate action from headquarters. The President rarely refused a grace of this kind; and the demands were not so frequent as to lose the charm of novelty.

One of the tricks into which his idleness and his enterprise together drove him, was the occasion of much laughter to the judicious, and much horror to the respectable in Washington. He invested, one morning, all his pocket money in buying the stock in trade of an old woman who sold gingerbread near the Treasury. He made the Government carpenters give him a board and some trestles which he set up in the imposing porte-cochere of the White House, and on this rude counter displayed his wares. Every office-seeker who entered the house that morning, bought a toothsome luncheon of the keen little merchant, and when an hour after the opening of the booth a member of the household discovered the young pastryman the admired center of a group of grinning servants and toadies, he had filled his pockets and his hat with currency, the spoil of the American public. The juvenile operator made lively work of his ill-gotten gains, however, and before night was penniless again.

Although a mere child at the death of his father, this terrible shock greatly sobered and steadied him. His brother Robert at once took charge of his education, and he made rapid progress up to the time of his sailing for Europe with his mother. He has ever since remained with her, displaying a thoughtful devotion and tenderness beyond his years, and strangely at variance with the mischievous thoughtlessness of his childhood. He came back a short while ago, greatly improved by his residence abroad, but always the same cordial, frank, warm-hearted boy. In his loss the already fearfully bereaved family will suffer a new and deep affliction, and the world which did and never will know him, will not withhold a tribute of regret for the child whose gayety and affection cheered more than anything else the worn and weary heart of the great President through the toilsome years of the war.

Greeley and the Presidency.

Mr. Greeley has spoken again regarding the Presidency, and his letter, written to Major Muldoon, of the World, is, if it is correctly stated, very plain and satisfactory:

TEXAS.

YOUNG MAN: Your letter was sent to me from New York. The Ku Klux do not interfere with the mail in Texas. This is essentially an agricultural State. You can plow here twenty-seven feet deep if you own plenty of mules.

More than half a century ago, and just as soon as I was able to distinguish pig iron from horse-radishes, I resolved never to become President of the United States and to quit drinking rum.

For two reasons—I couldn't afford it, and hadn't the time. The reasons still exist.

But still if I were elected and should accept, it would be to demonstrate several theories, both of government and of politics and of farming, which I have adopted after an experience of eight and fifty years.

First, I believe that the man is made for the office, and not all the offices in the land for man's family.

Next, I believe it is possible to run this government on cold water, whereby a large saving would be made in the cost of decanters, fingerbowls, etc., at the White House.

Next, I should advocate a more humanizing and satisfactory system in the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

The milder tribes I would subject to gradual extermination, on a buchu and Tribune diet, and the bloodthirsty I would cut up and pack away in rock salt. I think I know something about salt.

It is true that I am opposed to Grant, but it is true that I am somewhat in favor of Greeley.

It is also true that I have drunk nothing stronger than tea for two and sixty years. I always drink tea from a saucer, after the manner of sages.

Tea can be raised in many sections of New England. The Boston people gave the subject some little attention a few years since, and raised quite a crop.

Aloes could be raised in this State but for the potato-bug; so could castor oil and saleratus. Very truly yours, H. GREELEY.

To MR. MULDOON, Astor House.

LOVE AND STRATEGY.—The usual course of illicit flirtation has just had an exception to the general rule in such cases, and a confiding woman of Bloomington, Illinois, who put her trust in another woman's husband is left very forlorn. The object of her affections was a young doctor upon whom she had lavished her tender glances, etc., for a long time without avail; but all at once the medical man yielded to her insinuating graciousness and raised the most exciting hopes in the bosom of the charmer. The doctor, however, with all his attentions, was very discreet, but this only made him the more desirable, and finally rendered the loan of a few hundred dollars to him one of the happiest moments the fair lady had experienced. The doctor is now on a pleasure trip East with his wife, having a good time with the money and the loving lender is dividing her time between tears for her unappreciated love and savage inquiries as to how she will get that money back. The doctor, luckier than Crittenden, whom Mrs. Fair shot, is safe as long as he don't pay that bill, and will no doubt be held up by all wives as a very proper husband.

Steamer George S. Wright sails on the 4th for Port Townsend, San Juan, Nanaimo and Sitka.

A. B. Richardson & Co's auction sale of Groceries and General Merchandise was well attended, bidding good and prices obtained satisfactory.

We have received information from reliable sources that the catch of fish will be one-third larger this year than last, and consequently there will be more put up for market than heretofore. We have also been informed that the attention of packers have been drawn to canning the fish, and we are safe in saying that more will be canned and less put up in barrels and half barrels than last year. We noticed on the wharf 5 half bbls Salmon, shipped by Leveridge, Wadhams & Co., to E. M. Edwards, St. Joseph, Michigan, and there was also 1 box smoked Salmon for shipment to Chicago, Illinois.

Complaints are made in San Francisco to the condition in which some of our packers send their cured meats to that market, necessitating the sending of the most of it to the packers for overhauling previous to being put on the market. Our packers should see to it that this objection is overcome, or else our cured meats will come into disrepute among dealers abroad. The quality of the meat, when properly cured, cannot be excelled but by making shipments of inferior cured meats, we are apt to cause the prices of all our exportations to fall. Our exportation to the San Francisco market from the 1st of January has been 2,105 packages Bacon and 170 packages Hams, but the falling off in shipments for the past two months has been very marked.

The month of July in the Eastern States is invariably one of the most important months of the year in a financial point of view, for, on and after the first of the month, semi-annual settlements are made, dividends and interest fall due and are paid. The immense disbursements of July let loose the accumulations which have been hoarded for weeks to meet obligations. It was confidently anticipated that a combination would be formed in New York to force gold up during the latter part of last month to at least 120, but if anything of the kind was attempted it failed, as gold, although it advanced slightly, has fallen back again. The combination expected to achieve success upon the ground that the balance of trade between Europe and the United States was against us, and to meet it the demand for gold had been and still was very heavy, as shown by figures annexed; but by the foresight and prudence of Secretary Boutwell in retaining a large sum in the Treasury—the last statement, July 1, 1871, giving it at $90,183,000—which he holds over speculators who attempt to bull the market, the scheme failed, thus keeping gold steady or with very slight change. Had it not been for this wise financial policy, with the great demand existing for exporting, the bulls would have sent gold up to a very high figure. The export of gold from the port of New York since July 1, 1870, to the 24th of June, 1871, amounted to $81,718,748 against $33,420,064 for the like period of 1869-70, showing an increase for meeting the foreign demand of $48,298,684. The telegram bearing date of July 31st, informs us that the Secretary of the Treasury had instructed the Assistant Treasurer at New York to buy at specified times in this month $6,000,000 worth of bonds, and to sell during the month $7,000,000 of gold.

Later advices from California state, that the yield of grain was proving larger than the most sanguine expected. In many localities where they had ordered sacks only sufficient to sack the anticipated crops, they found the yield so large as to cause them to duplicate, and in some instances even to triple their orders for sacks. The straw was short but the grain had filled out well. So favorable are the reports received in San Francisco from farmers harvesting, as to cause a large estimate to be made on the yield of Wheat. There exists in San Francisco an active local demand for Wheat, owing to millers offering at reduced rates superfine Flour to Chinamen to induce shipments to Hong Kong by sail, expecting to purchase Wheat at a low rate, so as to let them make a fair milling profit, but the Chinamen not only bought enough to load vessels chartered, but also wished to purchase to ship by steamer. The consequence was, that millers could only purchase Wheat in part at prices expected, and had to buy balance at old rates. The Oregon Flour on hand in San Francisco is all extra and held above figures paid by Chinamen. But if this demand for shipment to China of superfine continues any length of time, it may have the effect to help work off some of the Oregon extra, as the local mills will, in all probability, run on superfine, thus allowing the market to be reduced upon extra. The telegraph of this morning informs us that the steamer America took out 7,000 bbls Flour for China. The sales in San Francisco for export mostly for China, last week, of superfine or Flour probably a shade better, aggregated 15,000 bbls.

Merchandise Report.

BRAN—280 sks, at $25 per ton.

EGGS—1,500 doz, at 20c per doz, and 1,000 doz, in lots, at 20 c.

FLOUR—Shipments to-day, per steamer Oriflamme, amounted to 650 bbls. The bark Lookout takes 600 bbls, shipment of J. McCraken & Co., to Honolulu. Prices are, if anything, a little firmer.

MIDDLINGS—200 sks at $40 per ton.

MOLASSES AND SYRUP—A short time ago the distillers of San Francisco entered that market and purchased quite heavily of molasses, but notwithstanding, the stocks on hand are large. The refineries are running to their full capacity with markets overstocked.

OIL—We understand the rule adopted at the East, of selling petroleum by weight, has been adopted by one or two houses in San Francisco. The standard is 6½ lb to the gallon, or 65 lbs net to the case, each case containing two five gallon tins. This is as it should be, as it brings short measure up with a round turn. The amount of petroleum or coal oil received 1st of January, 1871, in San Francisco, was 84,094 cases; the amount to arrive, due between this and 1st of November, 1871, is 87,003 cases, making a total of 1,727,650 gallons.

RYE—243 sks, quotable at from 85c to 90c.

OATS—200 sks, from 60c to 62½c.

SOAP—100 bxs, R. Irving & Co.'s C. O., at 7½c.

TALLOW—2,600 lbs choice at 8c.

Markets.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, August 2.—Flour—The Charlotte and Quickstep are loading for Hong Kong, and the Milton Badger for Punta Arenas. These cargoes are all engaged and mostly aboard ship. Oregon brands, $5 50@6 for superfine and second grade; extra, $6 75. The range for inferior mills is about the same, while local brands are as follows: Superfine $5 87a6; extra, $6 62@6 75.

Wheat—There has been but one clearance of a cargo since April 18th. We have three vessels under engagement. The receipts are yet too light to admit of active movement or decline in prices. Just at present local millers are pretty well supplied and demand is slack, exporters being unwilling to pay the prices demanded. Prime now, $2 25, and from that to $2 20 for inferior, sales 800 sks common, $1 10@3; fair $2 17½.

Barley—There is a better tone to the market than at the close of last week; new quotable at $1 52½@1 55, and old at $1 60@2.

Oats—Have been in fair demand during the week at $1 80@1 85, which is a fair range for both old and new.

Potatoes—The range is 75c@$1 for Mission, Half Moon Bay and peachblows, and 35c to 40c for Carolinas.

Onions—70@90c.

Corn—The demand is light, nominal at $2 25@2 30.

Corn Meal—Is still quoted at 2¼@3¾c.

Rye—Nominal at $2 15; sale of 70 sacks of new crop, the first of the season, at $1 90.

Buckwheat—Nominal, 3c.

Feed—We note a further decline in bran and middlings, now selling at the local mills at $25@35 respectively.

Oil Cake Meal—$45.

Hay—$15@[illegible].

Straw—[illegible].

Wool—25,000lbs California sold during the week at 30@35c for spring, and 28@30c for fall; also, small lots of Oregon at 33@41c.

Tad Lincoln.

[From the New York Tribune.]

Most of those who read the dispatch announcing the death of Thomas Todd Lincoln will never think of the well-grown young gentleman who died on Saturday at Chicago. The name of "Tad"—a pet name given by himself with his first stammering utterances and adopted by his fond parents and the world—recalls the tricksy little sprite who gave to that sad and solemn White House of the great war the only comic relief it knew. The years that have followed, spent in study and travel, produced an utterly different person. The Tad Lincoln of our history ceased to exist long ago. The modest and cordial young fellow who passed through New York a few weeks ago with his mother will never be known outside the circle of his mourning friends. But "Little Tad" will be remembered as long as any live who bore a personal share in the great movements whose center for four years was at Washington.

He was so full of life and vigor—so bubbling over with health and high spirits, that he kept the house alive with his pranks and his fantastic enterprises. He was always a "chartered libertine," and after the death of his brother Willie, a prematurely serious and studious child, and the departure of Robert for College, he installed himself as the absolute tyrant of the Executive Mansion. He was idolized by both his father and mother, petted and indulged by his teachers, and fawned upon and caressed by the noisome horde of office-seekers which infested the ante-rooms of the White House. He had a very bad opinion of books and no opinion of discipline, and thought very little of any tutor who would not assist him in yoking his kids to a chair or in driving his dogs tandem over the South Lawn. He was as shrewd as he was lawless, and always knew whether he could make a tutor serviceable or not. If he found one with obstinate ideas of the superiority of grammar to kite-flying as an intellectual employment, he soon found means of getting rid of him.

He had so much to do that he felt he could not waste time in learning to spell. Early in the morning you could hear his shrill pipe resounding through the dreary corridors of the Executive residence. The day passed in a rapid succession of plots and commotions, and when the President laid down his weary pen toward midnight, he generally found his infant goblin asleep under his table, or roasting his curly head by the open fire-place; and the tall chief would pick up the child and trudge off to bed with the drowsy little burden on his shoulder, stooping under the doors and dodging the chandeliers. The President took infinite comfort in the child's rude health, fresh fun, and uncontrollable boisterousness. He was pleased to see him growing up in ignorance of books, but with singularly accurate ideas of practical matters. He was a fearless rider, while yet so small that his legs stuck out horizontally from the saddle. He had that power of taming and attaching animals to himself, which seems the especial gift of kindly and unlettered [illegible] [illegible] "Let him run," the easy going [illegible] President would say; "he has time enough [illegible] letters and get poky [illegible] left to learn his little rascal [illegible] Bob was just such a boy." [illegible] and now he is a very decent

It w[illegible] is evident, that with all his insubordinations and reckless mischief the spoiled child was at heart of a truthful and generous nature. He treated flatterers and office-seekers with a curious coolness and contempt, but he often espoused the cause of some poor widow, or tattered soldier, whom he found waiting in the ante-rooms, and it was most amusing to see the hearty little fellow dragging his shabby protégés into the Executive presence, ordering the ushers out of the way, and demanding immediate action from headquarters. The President rarely refused a grace of this kind, and the demands were not so frequent as to lose the charm of novelty.

One of the tricks into which his idleness and his enterprise together drove him, was the occasion of much laughter to the judicious, and much horror to the respectable in Washington. He invested, one morning, all his pocket money in buying the stock in trade of an old woman who sold gingerbread near the Treasury. He made the Government carpenters give him a board and some trestles which he set up in the imposing porte-cochere of the White House, and on this rude counter displayed his wares. Every office-seeker who entered the house that morning, bought a toothsome luncheon of the keen little merchant, and when an hour after the opening of the booth a member of the household discovered the young pastryman the admired center of a group of grinning servants and toadies, he had filled his pockets and his hat with currency, the spoil of the American public. The juvenile operator made lively work of his ill-gotten gains, however, and before night was penniless again.

Although a mere child at the death of his father, this terrible shock greatly sobered and steadied him. His brother Robert at once took charge of his education, and he made rapid progress up to the time of his sailing for Europe with his mother. He has ever since remained with her, displaying a thoughtful devotion and tenderness beyond his years, and strangely at variance with the mischievous thoughtlessness of his childhood. He came back a short while ago, greatly improved by his residence abroad, but always the same cordial, frank, warm-hearted boy. In his loss the already fearfully bereaved family will suffer a new and deep affliction, and the world which did and never will know him, will not withhold a tribute of regret for the child whose gayety and affection cheered more than anything else the worn and weary heart of the great President through the toilsome years of the war.

Greeley and the Presidency.

Mr. Greeley has spoken again regarding the Presidency, and his letter, written to Major Muldoon, of the World, is, if it is correctly stated, very plain and satisfactory:

TEXAS.

YOUNG MAN: Your letter was sent to me from New York. The Ku Klux do not interfere with the mail in Texas. This is essentially an agricultural State. You can plow here twenty-seven feet deep if you own plenty of mules.

More than half a century ago, and just as soon as I was able to distinguish pig iron from horse-radishes, I resolved never to become President of the United States and to quit drinking rum.

For two reasons—I couldn't afford it, and hadn't the time. The reasons still exist.

But still if I were elected and should accept, it would be to demonstrate several theories, both of government and of politics and of farming, which I have adopted after an experience of eight and fifty years.

First, I believe that the man is made for the office, and not all the offices in the land for man's family.

Next, I believe it is possible to run this government on cold water, whereby a large saving would be made in the cost of decanters, fingerbowls, etc., at the White House.

Next, I should advocate a more humanizing and satisfactory system in the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

The milder tribes I would subject to gradual extermination, on a buchu and Tribune diet, and the bloodthirsty I would cut up and pack away in rock salt. I think I know something about salt.

It is true that I am opposed to Grant, but it is true that I am somewhat in favor of Greeley.

It is also true that I have drank nothing stronger than tea for two and sixty years. I always drink tea from a saucer, after the manner of sages.

Tea can be raised in many sections of New England. The Boston people gave the subject some little attention a few years since, and raised quite a crop.

Aloes could be raised in this State but for the potato-bug; so could castor oil and saleratus. Very truly yours, H. GREELEY.

To Mr. MULDOON, Astor House.

LOVE AND STRATEGY.—The usual course of illicit flirtation has just had an exception to the general rule in such cases, and a confiding woman of Bloomington, Illinois, who put her trust in another woman's husband is left very forlorn. The object of her affections was a young doctor upon whom she had lavished her tender glances, etc., for a long time without avail; but all at once the medical man yielded to her insinuating graciousness and raised the most exciting hopes in the bosom of his charmer. The doctor, however, with all his attentions, was very discreet, but this only made him the more desirable, and finally rendered the loan of a few hundred dollars to him one of the happiest moments the fair lady had experienced. The doctor is now on a pleasure trip East with his wife, having a good time with the money and the loving lender is dividing her time between tears for her unappreciated love and savage inquiries as to how she will get that money back! The doctor, luckier than Crittenden, whom Mrs. Fair shot, is safe so long as he don't pay that bill, and will no doubt be held up by all wives as a very proper husband.

A. B. Richardson & Co's auction sale of Groceries and General Merchandise was well attended, bidding good and prices obtained satisfactory.

We have received information from reliable sources that the catch of fish will be one-third larger this year than last, and consequently there will be more put up for market than heretofore. We have also been informed that the attention of packers have been drawn to canning the fish, and we are safe in saying that more will be canned and less put up in barrels and half barrels than last year. We noticed on the wharf 5 half bbls Salmon, shipped by Leveridge, Wadhams & Co., to E. M. Edwards, St. Joseph, Michigan, and there was also 1 box smoked Salmon for shipment to Chicago, Illinois.

Complaints are made in San Francisco to the condition in which some of our packers send their cured meats to that market, necessitating the sending of the most of it, to the packers for overhauling previous to being put on the market. Our packers should see to it that this objection is overcome, or else our cured meats will come into disrepute among dealers abroad. The quality of the meat, when properly cured, cannot be excelled but by making shipments of inferior cured meats, we are apt to cause the raising of objections to all. Our exportation to the San Francisco market from the 1st of January has been 2,105 packages Bacon and 170 packages Hams, but the falling off in shipments for the past two months has been very marked.

The month of July in the Eastern States is invariably one of the most important months of the year in a financial point of view, for, on and after the first of the month, semi-annual settlements are made, dividends and interest fall due and are paid. The immense disbursements of July lets loose the accumulations which have been hoarded for weeks to meet obligations. It was confidently anticipated that a combination would be formed in New York to force gold up during the latter part of last month to at least 120, but if anything of the kind was attempted it failed, as gold, although it advanced slightly, has fallen back again. The combination expected to achieve success upon the ground that the balance of trade between Europe and the United States was against us, and to meet it the demand for gold had been and still was very heavy, as shown by figures annexed, but by the foresight and prudence of Secretary Boutwell in retaining a large sum in the Treasury—the last statement, July 1, 1871, giving it at $90,-688,000—which he holds over speculators who attempt to bull the market, the scheme failed, thus keeping gold steady or with very slight change. Had it not been for this wise financial policy, with the great demand existing for exporting, the bulls would have sent gold up to a very high figure. The export of gold from the port of New York since July 1, 1870, to the 24th of June, 1871, amounted to $81,718,743 against $33,425,504 for the like period of 1869–70, showing an increase for meeting the foreign demand of $48,293,241. The telegram bearing date of July 31st, informs us that the Secretary of the Treasury had instructed the Assistant Treasurer at New York to buy at specified times in this month $5,000,000 worth of bonds, and to sell during the month $7,000,000 of gold.

Later advices from California state that the yield of grain was proving larger than the most sanguine expected. In many localities where they had ordered sacks only sufficient to sack the anticipated crops, they found the yield so large as to cause them to duplicate, and in some instances even to triple their orders for sacks. The straw was short but the grain had filled out well. So favorable are the reports received in San Francisco from farmers harvesting, as to cause a large estimate to be made on the yield of Wheat. There exists in San Francisco an active local demand for Wheat, owing to millers offering at reduced rates superfine Flour, to Chinamen to induce shipments to Hong Kong by sail, expecting to purchase Wheat at a low rate, so as to let them make a fair milling profit, but the Chinamen not only bought enough to load vessels chartered, but also wished to purchase to ship by steamer. The consequence was that millers could only purchase Wheat in part at prices expected, and had to buy balance at old rates. The Oregon Flour on hand in San Francisco is all extra and held above figures paid by Chinamen. But if this demand for shipment to China of superfine continues any length of time, it may have the effect to help work off some of the Oregon extra, as the local mills will, in all probability, run on superfine, thus allowing the market to be reduced upon extra. The telegraph of this morning informs us that the steamer America took out 7,003 bbls Flour for China. The sales in San Francisco for export mostly for China, last week, of superfine or Flour probably a shade better, aggregated 15,000 bbls.

Merchandise Report.

BRAN—280 sks, at $25 per ton.

EGGS—1,500 doz, at 25c per doz, and 1,000 doz, in lots, at 30 c.

FLOUR—Shipments to-day, per steamer Oriflamme, amounted to 660 bbls. The bark Goodall takes 500 bbls, shipment of J. McCraken & Co., to Honolulu. Prices are, if anything, a little firmer.

MIDDLINGS—200 sks at $40 per ton.

MOLASSES AND SYRUP—A short time ago the distillers of San Francisco entered that market and purchased quite heavily of molasses, but, notwithstanding, the stocks on hand are large. The refineries are running to their full capacity with markets over-stocked.

OIL—We understand the rule adopted at the East, of selling petroleum by weight, has been adopted by one or two houses in San Francisco. The standard is 6½ lb to the gallon, or 66 lbs net to the case, each case containing two five gallon tins. This is as it should be, as it brings short measure up with a round turn. The amount of petroleum or coal oil received 1st of January, 1871, in San Francisco, was 84,697 cases, the amount to arrive, due between this and 1st of November, 1871, is 87,063 cases, making a total of 1,727,550 gallons.

RYE—244 sks, quotable at from 85c to 90c.

OATS—200 sks, from 60c to 62½c.

SOAP—100 bxs, R. Irving & Co.'s C. O., at 7½c.

TALLOW—2,500 lbs choice at 8c.

Markets.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, August 2.—Flour—The Charlotte and Quickstep are loading for Hong Kong, and the Milton Badger for Punta Arenas. These cargoes are all engaged and mostly aboard ship. Oregon brands, $5 50@6 for superfine and second grade; extra, $6 75. The range for inferior mills is about the same, while local brands are as follows: Superfine, $5 [illegible]; extra, $6 62@6 75.

Wheat—There has been but one clearance of a cargo since April 18th. We have three vessels under engagement. The receipts are yet too light to admit of active movement or decline in prices. Just at present local millers are pretty well supplied and demand is slack, exporters being unwilling to pay the prices demanded. Prime now $2 25, and from that to $2 20 for inferior; sales 600 sks common, $2 00@3; [illegible] $2 12½.
